The Meyer-Baughman Student Research Award supports independent research and creative work or the dissemination of that research at external-CNU venues. Students are encouraged to work closely with their faculty mentor in the development of their proposals. The intention of this program is that the student will be the lead or sole creator of any product.

To be eligible for this award, a student must be a Communication major or minor, be in good standing with the university, and hold at least a 2.75 GPA in Communication. Applications are accepted on a rolling basis during the academic year. Applicants can expect a decision on their proposal within 3-4 weeks of submission. Incomplete applications will not be considered.
