

Prepare for the School Year

Keep Your Community Safe

Foundations of Targeted Violence Prevention eLearning

The Foundations of Targeted Violence Prevention eLearning is a one-hour online training developed by the Department of Homeland Security, National Threat Evaluation and Reporting Program Office that empowers faculty, staff, and parents to:

- ✓ Recognize threats or potentially concerning behaviors
- ✓ Understand what behaviors may be displayed by a person who is on a pathway to violence
- ✓ Learn where to report information of concern
- ✓ Understand how the information reported will be used to keep our community safe

“Targeted school violence is preventable when communities facilitate bystander reporting and promote climates of safety and trust.”

- US Secret Service, NTAC

For additional information on training and resources to help keep your community safe, please visit <https://www.dhs.gov/nter>

